VOL. XVIII. NO. 47

WRANGELL, ALASKA, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 13, 1919

PRICE TEN CENTS

News By Cable Today From All Over the World

CENTRALIA, WASH.—Maddened with unpatriotic impulses and hatred of all things American half a dozen I. W. W.s armed with rifles and revolvers, perched on nearby housetops, shot into the Armistice parade Tuesday afternoon killing Warren O. Grimm, Benjamin Casagrande, and Arthur McElfresh, all overseas veterans.

Six others including Dale Hubbard are believed to be fatally wounded.

Sixteen arrests were made at once. The enraged crowd stormed the jail and took the man known to have shot Hubbard and hanged him.

The I. W. W. headquarters were wrecked.

Federal and State troops have arrived.

CENTRALIA—Dale Hubbard, the fourth soldier shot by the I. W. W.s died. Hubbard was married in Centralia three weeks ago.

CENTRALIA—The man who was lynched was identified as Bricksmith, a well known I. W. W. of Seattle. As he was being hanged he said: "I have carried out my orders."

CENTRALIA—Many camp trains and automobiles are bringing in armed soldiers in addition to the military which arrived within a few hours after the riot.

CENTRALIA—Earl Watt, another of the wounded men, will die before nightfall, say his physicians.

CENTRALIA—Evidence that the fatal termination of the parade had been most carefully planned came into the hands of the prosecuting attorney and the citizens' committee which is co-operating with the county authorities, through the confession of James Lamb, who was taken from the Centralia jail to the county jail at Chehalis. Lamb, according to Prosecutor Allen, asserted that the I. W. W. plan was to "get" four American Legion men "who were prominent in their anti-red activities"—Grimm, McElfresh, Captain David Livingston, and William Scales.

CENTRALIA—Never before in its history has this city been so stirred as at the present time. Armed troops have been pouring in since Tuesday night, and Centralia appreciates the spirit that has prompted their coming. Nevertheless, the presence of outside troops is wholly unnecessary. The city is able to protect itself against I. W. W.s. The dastardly murder of five American patriots who a year ago were on the firing line, has not intimidated the city in the least.

CENTRALIA—Captain David Livingston who was a marked man, but who escaped the I. W. W. bullets fired here on Armistice Day, is a nephew of the great African explorer and missionary. He has a valuable collection of African relics which were left him by his uncle. Captain Livingston is a practicing physician and for several years prior to the war he was captain of the Centralia home guard.

Warren Grimm, the first veteran killed, was about 30 years of age, and had grown up in Centralia. When he attended the University of Washington he was noted as a football player; was over six feet tall, and strikingly handsome. He was an amateur boxer and wrestler and an all round athlete. Owing to his membership in the home guard and his connection with matters athletic he was well known and without doubt the most popular young man in Centralia. When war was declared he was among the very first to volunteer. He returned from overseas only a few months ago, and there was a big local celebration in honor of his home coming.

The other murdered men, while not as well known as Grimm, were all patriots who were in Europe facing German bullets when the armistice was signed.

WASHINGTON—The Department of Justice on Wednesday morning started an investigation of the attack of the I. W. W.s on the parade of former United States soldiers at Centralia, Wash., in which four overseas service men were killed, and six others seriously if not fatally wounded.

BISMARCK—Frazier today declared martial law in the mining districts of North Dakota, and ordered the adjutant general to reopen the mines closed by the strike and supply the people with coal.

SEATTLE—The Admiral Evans sailed at 10 Wednesday morning. Andrew J. Willson was the only passenger booked for Wrangell.

HELENA, ARK.—Eleven Negroes convicted of murder in connection with the insurrection last October were today sentenced to electrocution at Little Rock.

FARGO, N. D.—M. A. Hildreth, United States attorney for North Dakota, said today that the coal strike situation in North Dakota is to be considered by the Federal authorities.

CHARLESTON—The local sheriff, acting on orders from the Government, seized a quantity of arms and ammunition in the express office at Dawes, a mining village in the cabin creek district. The arms were consigned to miners.

PARIS—The American delegation to the Peace Conference has informed the Supreme Council of its intention to leave France.

The following citizens of Bayview are in Wrangell this week: Mr. and Mrs. Maxfield Dalton and daughter, Bessie, Peter Annieskett, John W. Annieskett, Arthur James, Charles Grant, Jim Jackson.

Leo Margoles, who runs the Northern Pool Hall at Seward was taken from the Alaska at Valdez because he had some liquid disturbance in his suitcase. The authorities convened a midnight court and fined Leo $500 and costs, which he paid and went on his way with the prospects of a very dry trip south.

Brigadier McLean of Vancouver will hold service in the Salvation Army hall tonight.

For the shave and haircut of satisfaction go to Ed Grigwire's shop, opposite drug store.

Bayview Natives Put Up Supply of Home Canned Fish

New System of Canning Introduced at Bayview During Past Season Is Proving of Incalculable Benefit to People of West Coast.

In another column will be found an interesting interview given out by Mayor J. L. Gray of Juneau concerning his recent visit to the West Coast. Had the Juneau mayor made his trip two months earlier his story would have been longer.

Owing to the canning season being over Mr. Gray missed seeing one of the greatest evidences of thrift and advancement that is to be found in any community in Alaska. We refer to the introduction on the West Coast of small canning outfits for the home canning of fish, game and vegetables.

System Introduced by Government Teacher

This system of home canning which is proving of incalculable benefit to the people of the West Coast was introduced at Bayview during the past season by Mr. H. L. Rowley, the Government teacher in charge. The citizens of Bayview were given demonstrations of the simple process by which fish can be canned in the home just as satisfactorily as in the big canneries. As the result of Mr. Rowley's demonstrations more than 40 canning outfits were ordered.

One outfit will provide canning facilities for several families, and during the past summer considerable fish was canned for use during the winter.

Merchant Finds That It Pays to Can for the Market

Mr. K. J. Peratovich, one of the enterprising merchants of Bayview canned fish not only for his own private use, but for the market. One section of his store shelving contains a stock of canned salmon which was canned by himself and wife. We bought one of these cans in the open market, and it proved to be as fine canned salmon as we ever ate. Mr. Peratovich says the home canned salmon is a good seller and he plans to put up a much larger quantity next season.

Outfit Simple; Cost Nominal

We are not in a position to describe the modus operandi, but the outfit is simple and the cost is a bagatelle when the capabilities and capacity are taken into consideration. It is our recollection that Mr. Peratovich told us that the cost of an outfit was from $40 to $50. The operating plant occupies a very small place, is easily operated, and will turn out immense quantities of the finished product. Not only fish, but meats and vegetables of all kind can be canned with equal facility, and will keep indefinitely. Whatever is put up by this process is in perfect condition, no matter when opened and used.

Home Outfit Uses Same Containers as the Big Canneries

It is remarkable that an outfit costing such a nominal sum would be capable of doing such perfect canning in exactly the same containers as are used by the big commercial canneries. One of the biggest advantages of a home canning outfit is that it can be operated on a wood, coal, gas, gasoline or oil stove. In Bayview the most of the home canning is done on an ordinary kitchen range. The process is in some respects similar to that used by the big canneries. The and thermometer. The smallest size is provided with steam gauge cans done in a steel retort which

Contents of Cans Are Cooked in a Steel Retort

The cooking of the contents of the outfit has a retort 12 x 18 inches in size which holds 21 No. 2 sanitary cans at each charge. For sealing the cans a hand power double seamer is used.

The people of Bayview are all enthusiastic boosters for home can-

Sawyer Acquitted

Wrangell Local No. 10, Alaska Labor Union, last night received a cable message from B. R. Sawyer, which stated that the jury in his case had rendered a verdict of not guilty.

KETCHIKAN—The jury in the case of the United States vs. B. R. Sawyer was instructed to find a verdict of not guilty by Judge Jennings. District Attorney Smisser introduced a motion to dismiss the case against Sawyer on the grounds of insufficient evidence, but upon the objection of the defendant for dismissal the judge instructed the jury to find a verdict of not guilty.

Charles West Has Leg Shattered

One of the most deplorable accidents that has occurred in Wrangell in a long time happened Sunday afternoon when Charles A. West, wharfinger at the St. Michael Trading company dock, had his leg shattered by a bullet just as the Jefferson was coming into port.

A Native who was booked for passage north had set a bundle of luggage on the wharf where it would be in the way when the ship tied up. West moved the luggage and when he set it down a revolver that was tied up in the bundle was discharged. The ball entered the leg between the knee and ankle. The tibia or shin bone was badly shattered. A local physician was called and West was given first aid after which he was put aboard the Jefferson and sent to a hospital at Juneau. Mrs. West accompanied her husband. Fortunately, Miss Conley, a trained nurse in the employ of the Government was aboard the Jefferson and volunteered her service.

Word received from Juneau this morning stated that West's condition is entirely satisfactory.

Hyder Now Has Newspaper

The miner is the name of a new paper just started at Hyder. W. R. Hull, the editor and publisher is a pioneer in such camps as Republic, Wash., Grand Forks, and other camps of British Columbia. The Miner is a newsy paper and a good booster for the town in which it is published. Although smaller in size than the Sentinel, its subscription price is $5.00 a year. The Sentinel wishes Alaska's newest paper unlimited success.

Enjoyable Dance at Rink

Otto Vieweg gave a most enjoyable dance at the Rink Saturday night after the show. There was a good attendance and a lively time until 1 o'clock when Home Sweet Home was played. The music was furnished by Carl Stoeckel, Toby Harthun, and A. H. Fache.

The Glenn Is Now the Jada

Oscar Case who recently bought the Glenn from the Matheson estate has changed the name of the yacht to Jada. Last Sunday Oscar was out cruising on the Jada for the first time since her name was changed.

ning, and many more outfits will be secured in time for use during the next fishing season. These home canning outfits will also be brought into use to save the over-supply of wild berries which abound in that region.

Armistice Day Duly Observed In Wrangell

Armistice Day was appropriately and enthusiastically observed in Wrangell. There was a holiday for the school and a half holiday for the town.

In the evening there were patriotic exercises at the Redmen's hall, followed by a dance. The hall had been most beautifully and lavishly decorated with the National colors.

An appropriate feature of the occasion was the appearance of a group of returned service men in their military uniforms.

It was also most appropriate that the address of the evening was made by a returned service man, Mr. Gordon C. Mitchell, recently an officer in the United States navy. Mr. Mitchell's remarks were both patriotic and inspirational. After reviewing briefly the circumstances surrounding the World War, the speaker touched upon the present strikes and unsettled conditions in some parts of the country. He urged great need for 100 per cent Americanism, and emphasized the importance of sane thinking and just actions. He strongly advocated that wherever evils exist in our country they be remedied in the good American way—by the ballot. In closing he made a plea for a quickened public conscience and righteous decisions in order that there may be liberty, justice, peace and freedom for all.

Following Mr. Mitchell's address Misses Liberty Worden and Marjory Shaffner sang the Star Spangled Banner after which the audience gave the flag salute.

The hall was then cleared and dancing begun. Seldom has there been a larger attendance at the Redmen's hall than on this occasion. On the lower floor the room was filled with dancers while the lodge room upstairs was filled with others who were enjoying a more quiet form of amusement—cards.

Delightful music was furnished for the occasion by the following persons: Miss Margaret Bronson, Miss Ruth Lindman, G. W. Upshaw, Toby Harthun, Lloyd Dalgity, John Jackson, Charles Sheay, Peter John.

During the evening a delightful lunch was served in the banquet room. Mrs. F. E. Bronson had charge of the lunch and was ably assisted by Mesdames Mason, Campbell, Billion and Dalgity.

The committee of citizens who were appointed by the mayor to have charge of the Armistice celebration, and who carried out the affair so successfully was composed of E. A. Lindman, chairman, Thomas Dalgity, Wm. Patterson, F. E. Bronson, and J. G. Grant. While all the members of the committee discharged their tasks with credit we feel that special praise is due Chairman Lindman who was responsible for the exquisite decoration.

Branch of American Legion to Be Organized in Wrangell

A branch of the American Legion will be organized at the Gymnasium on the evening of next Wednesday, November 19.

The American Legion is an organization of American veterans of the world war. It is non-partisan and non-political. It is a civilian organization—not military or militaristic. Nearly all of its members are men who were civilians before the war, and are now again civilians. It makes no distinctions of rank and no distinctions between overseas men and men who did not get overseas.

The American Legion was first organized in Paris, March 15 to 17, 1919, by a thousand officers and men, delegates from all the units of the American Expeditionary Force to an organization meeting, which adopted a tentative constitution and selected the name, "American Legion."

The action of the Paris meeting was confirmed and endorsed by a similar meeting held in St. Louis May 8 to 10, 1919, when the Legion was formally recognized by the troops who served in the United States and a constitution in conformity with the Paris constitution was adopted.

The purposes and aims of the organization are set forth in the following preamble to its constitution: "For God and Country we associate ourselves together for the following purposes: To uphold and defend the Constitution of the United States of America; to maintain law and order; to foster and perpetuate a one hundred per cent Americanism; to preserve the memories and incidents of our association in the Great War; to inculcate a sense of individual obligations to the community, state and nation; to combat the autocracy of both the classes and the masses; to make right the master of might; to promote peace and good will on earth; to safeguard and transmit to posterity the principles of justice, freedom and democracy; to consecrate and sanctify our comradeship by our devotion to mutual helpfulness."

To be eligible for membership one must be a soldier, sailor or marine who served honorably between April 6, 1917, and November 11, 1919.

Silas P. Silverman, son of Sam Silverman and secretary of the Forty-Nine mining company has been in camp this week, having arrived on the Albert last Friday. He went up to the mine with Superintendent Harry Howson for a couple of days.—Hyder Miner.

Bessie, the 12-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maxfield Dalton of Bayview, was brought to Wrangell the first of the week for the purpose of having her tonsils removed. Dr. Shurjek reports the patient doing nicely. The family will return to Bayview tomorrow.

Wrangell School Makes Record in Punctuality

(Alaska School Bulletin)

The punctuality record made by the high schools of the Territory during the month of September is an excellent one. Reports have been received from 10 of the 14 high schools in incorporated towns. Of these 10 schools, five made a record of 100 per cent in punctuality during the month, and the Valdez high school made a record of 100 per cent in both punctuality and attendance. The Wrangell schools are also to be congratulated upon their excellent record, as they report 100 per cent in punctuality in both the high school and the elementary grades.

The New Native Again Makes Its Appearance

After a vacation of three or four months the Hydaburg New Native has again made its appearance on our exchange table. The New Native is in a class by itself. It is a publication devoted to the uplift of the Native people, and at the same time is strong on the local news of the community in which it is published.

Is there such a thing as a miracle? What is a miracle? The word miracle in its origin means something that incites wonder. It is something that cannot be explained by ordinary natural laws. What were the ancient miracles? Are miracles common? An answer to these questions will be determined by a proper understanding of ourselves. Has morality anything to do with miracles? These with many other questions will be answered Sunday evening at St. Philip's Church.

A Proposed Addition to the Public School Building

(Communicated)

The purpose of these communications from the school board from time to time is to take the public into its confidence.

The present school is overcrowded, specially in the upper grades, and it will be very necessary next year to build another wing on the school building, and also make a place in the basement for the accommodation of the manual training class.

The new wing will have accommodations for the chemical and physical laboratories, and should be so constructed that if possible, by means of folding partitions to be joined to one of the rooms already existing so that it can be used as a school assembly room.

There is at present no adequate room for the school to assemble for the purpose of public speaking, and this is very necessary for the proper education of our young people.

The high school has a larger enrollment this year than ever, and there is a promise of a much better attendance another year. The ambition of the board is to make the school not only equal to any in Alaska, but to offer as good quality in teaching as found in any of our city schools.

To do this will require the special cooperation of the parents. If a student in the grades, specially from the sixth grade up, is allowed at home to slip along night after night without any home study, it is practically certain that habits of mental indolence will be acquired which will make a high school course, unless it is of the no-good sort, impossible.

So it is necessary for parents to push at home, so that after the town has poured its money into the school, the town will not say as the children of Israel said to Moses near Mount Sinai, when during his absence they had built the golden calf, "We poured our gold in and out came this calf."

Mayor of Juneau Tells of Visit To West Coast

Mayor J. L. Gray of Juneau recently made a business trip to the West Coast of Prince of Wales Island. Upon his return to Juneau Mayor Gray was interviewed by an Empire reporter, and his impressions are so pleasing that they are here reproduced:

"We left here two weeks ago," he said, "in the Santa Rita which was in command of Captain William Dickinson. In the party besides myself were J. J. Mehrin, F. J. Cox and Dudley Allen, commercial men. In the course of our trip we visited Hydaburg, Bayview, Kake, Watertall, Sitka, Killisnoo, Tenakee, Hoonah and Wrangell.

"The West Coast of Prince of Wales we found enjoying the most prosperous year of its history. Every cannery on the West Coast got up its pack. Everyone made money including the cannerymen and band trollers. The towns on that coast are all prosperous and the merchants are carrying good stocks and displaying them all. The day of the country store in these towns has passed and its place has been taken by modern places doing business along modern lines. I was surprised in the improvement within the past few years."

Continuing, Mr. Gray said: "But the greatest surprise came when we arrived at Hydaburg, Bayview and Kake where the Bureau of Education is helping out the Natives in their cooperative plans. At Bayview one of the progressive Natives in the course of a conversation took exception to some statements made by Judge Wickersham in the recent delegate contest. The Judge made the statement that these towns were composed of a lot of shacks. The Native took me through the town and through the homes and it has never been my pleasure to see a lot of finer or cleaner homes. There are at least 15 pianos in the town and they are all in use. There are fine streets, sidewalks and large mercantile establishments doing business. Everything is conducted by the Natives themselves under the supervision of the Bureau of Education and the places are models.

"When we arrived at Hydaburg," said Mr. Gray, "we found a new store in course of erection, also a new wharf where the boats tie up. There is a fine, planked street running to the main part of town and a new Ford truck to take freight from the wharf. There is a fine school with three teachers, and the teachers and scholars are a fine lot of folks. With the exception of the teachers and some other officials, everything there is operated by Natives, even the sawmill and the cannery.

"For a long time to come the memory of those busy Native towns will remain with me. The memory of that Ford truck chugging along a modern highway where a short time ago the skunk cabbage grew and the sight of the beautiful and well-kept homes where but a few years ago were squalid Native huts clustered. But the sight that will remain longest in my memory is the sight of a Native merchant playing lightly on the keys of a $900 electric cash register. All these things brought a vivid realization that the Native Alaskan has arrived and is one of us."

Brigadier J. S. McLean of Vancouver and Ensign W. J. Caruthers arrived on the mail boat yesterday from Bayview where the Brigadier conducted the annual Native congress of the Salvation Army which was in session there during the past week.

The 1919 session was a most successful one. There were delegates from Kake, Metlakatla, Karheen, Hydaburg and other Native villages. Meetings were held afternoons and evenings. The attendance at all the meetings was large and the penitent form was crowded nightly with earnest seekers after salvation.

During the Congress the Sisterhood of Bayview gave two banquets to the visiting Salvationists. Mayor Peter Annieskett was also host at a dinner given in honor of the visitors.

Rev. E. E. Bromley, pastor of the Presbyterian Church cooperated with the Salvationists in the conduct of their congress.

The annual congress next year will be held at Metlakatla.

Advertising a Sale!

YOU don't leave your rig in the middle of the road and go to a fence-post to read a sale bill do you? Then don't expect the other fellow to do it.

Put an ad in this paper, then, regardless of the weather, the fellow you want to reach reads your announcements while seated at his bedside.

If he is a prospective buyer you'll have him at your sale. One extra buyer often pays the entire expense of the ad, and it's a poor ad that won't pull that buyer.

An ad in this paper reaches the people you are after. Bills may be a necessity, but the ad is the thing that does the business.

Don't think of having a special sale without using advertising space in this paper.

Extensive preparations are being made for the Christmas bazaar which will be held by St. Philip's Guild at the Rink Friday, November 21. The sale will begin at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Refreshments will be served both afternoon and evening at the usual prices.

As on former occasions, the Guild will have a line of Japanese and Chinese goods, a large assortment having been received from the America-China Trading company this week. A most attractive and unusual array of gifts may be secured at this booth which will be in charge of Mrs. F. H. Gold, assisted by Mrs. Gartley, Mrs. Pritchett and Mrs. Campbell.

The candy booth where toothsome, homemade candies may be enjoyed will be presided over by Mrs. Charles Binkley, with Miss June Elliott and Miss Marjory Shaffner assisting. Here a very attractive display of Alaska pictures will also be found. These pictures will make excellent gifts for the folks in the States.

Mrs. McLaughlin, assisted by Mrs. Waters, Mrs. Shurick and Mrs. Bevier will have on sale a large number of aprons, practical or fancy, as well as a good line of fancy goods suitable for holiday gifts. This display represents weeks of hard work on the part of the Guild ladies and friends of the society, and must be seen to be appreciated.

The very latest conceits in gowns, millinery and lingerie for Miss Dolly will be displayed at the doll and infant booth by Miss Armstrong and Miss Allender. It is safe to state that a finer line of doll clothes has never been seen in Wrangell and the little mothers of the community will have an opportunity to replenish the wardrobes of Annabel Jane or Rose Marie at a moderate cost and still know that their precious children are arrayed in the most up-to-date creations. The garments are all the work of the famous designer and modiste, Mrs. O. C. Carlson.

The fish pond will no doubt prove as attractive as usual to the boys and girls of Wrangell. It will open at 3:30 and will be in charge of Mrs. Talmage.

The lunch committee consists of Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Grant, Mrs. Upshaw, Mrs. Gunderson and Mrs. Voss, with Mrs. Carlson and Mrs. Wheeler in charge of the ice cream. The Junior class girls of the Sunday school will assist at the tables.

Beginning at 8:30 there will be dancing.

Good music and a general good time is promised. A committee of men will have entire charge of the dance. They are: G. W. Upshaw, J. G. Grant, M. O. Johnson, O. C. Carlson, W. W. McLaughlin and F. H. Gold. The admission will be $1.00.

The proceeds of the bazaar will be used to build a Guild room addition to the Gymnasium.

Mrs. E. A. Lindman secured passage on the Jefferson to Seattle from which port she will go by rail to Bakersfield, California, on business connected with her family estate.
